World Executive [Poster Size And Tubed] (National Geographic Reference Map)

Synopsis

National Geographic's World map is the standard by which all other reference maps are measured. The World map is meticulously researched and adheres to National Geographic's convention of making independent, apolitical decisions based on extensive research using multiple authoritative sources. The Executive style World map uses an antique-style color palette and stunning shaded relief that provide a richness perfect for any decor. Drawn in the Winkel Tripel projection, distortions are minimized and unlike many other World maps, Greenland is shown the same size as Argentina and not as the size of all of South America. Thousands of place names are carefully and artistically placed on the map to maintain legibility even in the heavily populated areas of Europe, Asia and the Middle East. Details include clearly defined international boundaries, cities, physical features, rivers, and ocean floor features. Corner inset maps feature vegetation and land use, and population density as well as the north and south polar regions. Poster sized maps make a perfect addition to any sized space. They are specially designed to maximize content in a smaller footprint than standard wall maps and fit precisely into pre-cut poster sized frames which makes finishing and hanging them a breeze. The map is packaged in a two inch diameter clear plastic tube. The tube has a decorative label showing a thumbnail of the map with dimensions and other pertinent information. Map Scale = 1:37,215,000 Sheet Size = 36" x 24"

Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

Beautiful map, my only criticize would be that if looking at the US for example the states are pretty small and cities hard to word. Lots of little words crammed together. Its necessary though unless you want something much bigger.

Framed it & decided to hang over my desk. Looks great. The vintage colors match my modern taste & works well with my personal color scheme. Have received many compliments. I recently put a nicer black frame & removed the old one. It looks even better. I would advise buying a frame that is in one peice. The old frame was in 4 peices & looked kind of cheap. You can find a nice one peice frame at Wal-Mart for $16-$20. The cheaper frame with 4 peices is $10. Go ahead & spend a little more for a nicer frame.

perfect size for my wall, i still need to find a cork board or padding so i can stick pins to mark all the countries i have backpacked. it is small, but thats what i wanted.

Awesome poster. Love the neutral colors. The National Geographic logo at the bottom is kind of annoying, but other than that it's perfect.

These maps are classy looking. We framed them and putt them in pure kitchen, so we can discuss places in our world and point them injure together add they come up. They don't look like the cheesy classroom maps.

The map was wrong AND it was damaged. It was a map of the US not the world. and the top of the map was ripped and bent.

A good mad.

Love this map!
