Synopsis

On the day that shocks the world, one boy just wants to find his family. A powerful addition to the gripping I SURVIVED series. The only thing Lucas loves more than football is his Uncle Benny, his dad's best friend at the fire department where they both work. Benny taught Lucas everything about football. So when Lucas's parents decide the sport is too dangerous and he needs to quit, Lucas has to talk to his biggest fan. So the next morning, Lucas takes the train to the city instead of the bus to school. It's a bright, beautiful day in New York. But just as Lucas arrives at his uncle's firehouse, everything changes -- and nothing will ever be the same again.

Praise for I Survived the Sinking of the Titanic, 1912: "The fast pace and intrinsically fascinating disaster story will keep readers turning the pages." -- Kirkus Praise for I Survived the Shark Attacks of 1916: "This is a gripping story that will hold the interest of reluctant readers." -- SLJ Praise for I Survived Hurricane Katrina, 2005: "Expressive illustrations capture the drama of the storm and its aftermath, but the book's real power comes from its exploration of what it means to be a hero." -- Booklist

This is a great Historical Fiction series that tells about kids experiencing historical events from a personal perspective. My daughter has read many in the series and knows a lot about History, simply from reading these books. They are engaging and suspenseful while imparting factual information in a context that kids can relate to, and (more than likely) remember when memory recall is needed for information about the specific events. I highly recommend.

My second grader loves the I Survived series. I read him a few chapters each night. A great introduction to Geography and history.

My son is 9 and hard to get him to read sometimes.... Until he finds a good book. He couldn't put this book down. He finished it and said , "best book ever " .. This book is the second in the series he has read and loves them. I just ordered three more of them. :)

I bought my nine year old daughter the full series and she loves the books. She has read them all two to three times and shares them with her classmates as they take turns taking them home to read. She talks about the events all the time and how amazing it is that the people survived and has intrigued her interest more with the types of natural disasters that occur and incidents of mass casualty such as the sinking of the Titanic. Great books.

My 9 year old who's birthday is 9/11/07 was very curious about the 9/11 attacks. I struggled finding a book that would be age appropriate and something he could actually read and would keep his interest. This book did a great job at both and I enjoyed reading it with him. We donated it to his classroom afterwards.

I read this story to my 5th graders. Their generation doesn't seem to have a grasp for the horror of this event. They loved the story and want me to read more to them from this series. Several have checked out other books in this series from our school library.

This is a wonderful series of books for junior aged kids. Our library had only one in the series and one of the middle school kids requested one which we didn't have. I hate to have an incomplete set of books so I ordered the rest and they arrived in excellent condition and are already checked out!

My children (7&9) love these books. We use them in our homeschooling. They provide a great mental picture of some historical events and helps make it 'real' to them!
