For Every Dog An Angel

Synopsis

For Every Dog An Angel celebrates the timeless connection between people and their "forever dogs." From the moment a puppy is born, the book tells us, a guardian angel is there to welcome the puppy into the world and to help the pup understand what makes it so very special. Dogs will share their love with anyone and never ask for anything in return. From time to time, if a certain person and a certain dog meet, something happens that is just like magic! It's as if they have known each other before. And the guardian angel knows her dog has found its forever person and nothing - not even time nor space - will ever separate them. Filled with colorful illustrations, this charming little book will enchant dog lovers young and old and bring comfort to anyone who has had to say goodbye to a beloved dog companion.

Customer Reviews

"If you've never had a dog companion, this book will give you a picture of what it's like. It's like magic." -- The Oregonian, January 20, 1998
"The perfect way to remember the timeless connection children (and adults) forge with their special four-legged friends. Highly recommended." -- The Midwest Book Review
"This book is a must for everyone who has ever loved a dog. I can't recommend it highly enough." -- Susan Chernak McElroy, author of Animals as Teachers and Healers
"When the author lost her forever dog, Martha, the impact was devastating. This captures the poignant magic between the pair." -- The Seattle Times, November 22, 1998
"Whimsical language and pastel watercolors will mesmerize children of all ages." -- Dog Fancy Magazine, May 1999
Adults and children who have lost a dog will appreciate Davis' book for what it says: Although a dog passes away, it "can never really be separated from its forever person." The loving relationship between a person and a dog is forever. If you've never had a dog companion, this book will give you a picture of what it's like. It's like magic. Dog lovers will understand once they read this celebration of the special relationship between a person and a dog. It's a quick read, with less than 30 pages, but it's a book that can be read over and over. It evokes fond memories of those happy moments between a person and a dog. That alone will make the reader smile --Portland Oregonian, January 20, 1998

I purchased this book for my nephews (ages 6 & 4) they recently lost their beloved dog. She would sleep in their room and follow them around in the backyard while they played. She was kinda like a third "sibling" if you will. The boys took it extremely hard when Fifers died. So, after looking through the endless lists of books - I found "For Every Dog an Angel". (There are other books out there but, for two little boys they wanted something simple. They wanted to make sure their Fifers was taken care of. This book did it. Here is my favorite passages : "A dog can never really be separated from its forever person. Neither time nor space can ever come between them. So when the dog comes to the end of its earthly life and must go on ahead without its person beside them, the guardian angel becomes a loving bridge that connects the two friends for as long as the person remains on earth." and the one the boys loved the most: "So don't be surprised to see your new dog racing through the house as if it's playing with an invisible friend... it probably is."

Very sweet, nicely written book about the death of your dog. Written in a positive, soothing story. The book also has a scent to it - something like lavender or eucalyptus. I noticed it when I opened the package. I gave this to my daughter after the death of her much beloved dog, Taylor. She has another dog and a cat and they were both very interested in the smell of the book.

This is a perfect gift for families and friends with young children who have lost a dog f&A - especially if you include these pewter pocket tokens - Vilmain Pewter Pocket Token Gift Set, "Love" Angel, Bag of 10. Psychology research shows that it can be comforting for kids to have a tangible object they can associate with a loved one who has passed away.

For some in my family who have recently lost beloved pups.... I read it first before passing it on since we had lost a very senior beloved cat. It is beautifully well-done and makes a meaningful gift.

My vet gave me this book when I lost my first Westie several years ago. This simply little book made me sob terribly but strangely, also made me feel better. Its beauty and perfection is in it's simplicity, because nothing can make you feel more like a 5 year old child than losing a beloved dog (I used to say he made me feel like the luckiest little kid in the world). I now like to give this book when someone I know loses a beloved dog.

I received this book years ago after the devastating loss of one of our favorite pets. It is something I will always cherish!! It does start the crying all over again, but well worth reading. We have it on display next to his urn and his photo. When a friend loses a fur child, I always buy a copy, write a comforting sentiment inside the front cover, and give it to the grieving person. There is also For Every Cat An Angel.

We recieved for every cat an angel when my daughter lost her cat . It immediately relieved my daughters heart knowing that animals come and go . Love them all fiercely and when your time comes to an end they will all be there waiting for you .When my daughters friend lost thier beloved doggy we sent this right away. I highly recommend it

My Grand Childs dog is very sick and I bought this book to help prepare her for the sad day ahead. It, as all books, you might have to choose to leave out some words if you fell that need be. Over all I liked this better than the other book I bought. This book is good for a 5 year old I believe. Plan on reading this to her more when the time is near
